Collection Description

Administrative History

Martha Albertson Fineman, professor of law and writer, was born on May 27, 1943 in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. She earned a B.A. in history at Temple University in 1971, and a J.D. from the University of Chicago in 1975. Fineman's first professional position was Assistant Professor of Law at the University of Wisconsin at Madison. She remained at the University of Wisconsin from 1976 until 1991, eventually becoming a full professor. During her time at Wisconsin she founded the Feminism and Legal Theory Project, an enterprise which supports and encourages scholarship on matters of gender and legal equality. Fineman taught at Columbia Law School between 1991 and 1998, then at Cornell Law School from 1998 until 2004 as the Dorothea S. Clarke Professor of Feminist Jurisprudence. In 2004, she joined the faculty at Emory University as Robert W. Woodruff Professor of Law, bringing the Feminism and Legal Theory Project with her. In 2008, Fineman began the Vulnerability and the Human Condition Institute. She continues to work as a full-time professor and scholar at Emory.

Scope and Content Note

The papers of Martha Albertson Fineman span the years 1970-2014. The collection documents Fineman's career as a law professor and a leading scholar of feminist legal theory. Present in the collection are drafts of some of Fineman's major scholarship, such as The Neutered Mother, The Sexual Family and Other Twentieth Century Tragedies and The Autonomy Myth: A Theory of Dependency. Scholars, attorneys, and judges are represented here as correspondents; their letters often mention aspects of feminist legal thought and inquire about Fineman's writings, teaching, and personal life. There are many letters from the prominent political scientist Murray Edelman, a mentor of Fineman's at the University of Wisconsin.

Scope and Content Note

Fineman participated in many conferences, colloquia, seminars, and workshops over the course of her career. She organized many of these gatherings as part of her Feminism and Legal Theory Project (FLTP), the records of which are also in the Emory Law Archives. Materials for most of the Feminism and Legal Theory conferences and workshops are in the FLTP records. Records of some of these conferences were included in Fineman's personal papers. The FLTP materials in this series have been retained if they do not duplicate the materials found in the FLTP records. This series also contains materials on conferences not sponsored by FLTP in which Fineman took part.

The files in this series consist mostly of correspondence with scholars who presented at conferences and drafts of papers delivered by them.
