

EMORY UNIVERSITY. SCHOOL OF LAW.

Child Advocacy Project records, 1991-2000

Emory University
Emory Law Archives
Hugh F. MacMillan Law Library
1301 Clifton Road
Atlanta, GA 30322
404-727-0059

Descriptive Summary

Creator: Emory University. School of Law.
Title: Child Advocacy Project records, 1991-2000
Call Number: L-023
Extent: .5 linear ft. (1 box) and 1 VHS tape
Abstract: Records of the Child Advocacy Project, a volunteer initiative of Emory Law School students who volunteered to act as child advocates in DeKalb, Fulton, Newton and Gwinnett juvenile courts, consisting of reports to and records of the advisory committee, one report to the Task Force on Child Abuse, training materials, and brochures.
Language: Materials entirely in English.

Administrative Information

Restrictions on Access

Unrestricted access.

Terms Governing Use and Reproduction

All requests subject to limitations noted in departmental policies on reproduction.

Source

Transfer.

Citation

[after identification of item(s)], Child Advocacy Project records, Emory Law Archives, Hugh F. MacMillan Law Library, Emory University.

Processing

Processed Nancy Hall Watkins, 2008.

Emory Libraries provides copies of its finding aids for use only in research and private study. Copies supplied may not be copied for others or otherwise distributed without prior consent of the holding repository.

Collection Description

Administrative History

The Child Advocacy Project was created in 1993 as a result of a volunteer initiative begun in 1992 when a number of Emory Law School students volunteered to act as child advocates in DeKalb, Fulton, Newton and Gwinnett juvenile courts. In an effort to build upon that initiative, an advisory committee was organized and a formal proposal was developed. In April of 1993, the Task Force against Child Abuse provided a grant of $15, 000 to Emory Law School to support the project. The project continued until March of 2000 when the Barton Child Law and Policy Clinic was established.

Scope and Content Note

The records of the Child Advocacy Project consist of reports to and records of the advisory committee, one report to the Task Force on Child Abuse, training materials, brochures, and a video and accompanying handbook entitled "In the Best Interest of the Child."

Arrangement Note

Arranged by record type.

Container List

Box	Folder	Content
1	1	Advisory committee, 1995-1996
1	2	Brochures, 1991, 2000, no date
1	3	"In the Best Interest of the Child," 1997-handbook for video
1	4	Report to the CAP advisory committee, 1994
1	5	Report to the CAP advisory committee, 1995
1	6	Report to the CAP advisory committee, 1996
1	7	Report to the CAP advisory committee, 1997
1	8	Report to the Task Force on Child Abuse, 1993
1	9	Training materials, no date
1	10	"In the Best Interest of the Child," 1997-video
