

DOUGLAS, WILLIAM, 1769?-1819.

William Douglas sermons, 1807

Emory University
Pitts Theology Library
1531 Dickey Drive, Suite 560
Atlanta, GA 30322
404-727-4166

Descriptive Summary

Creator: Douglas, William, 1769?-1819.
Title: William Douglas sermons, 1807
Call Number: Manuscript Collection No. 058
Extent: 0.1 cubic ft. (3 volumes)
Abstract: Contains nineteen sermons delivered by Reverend William Douglas, Prebendary of Westminster and Canon Residentiary of Sarum and Salisbury.
Language: Materials entirely in English.

Administrative Information

Restrictions on Access

Unrestricted access.

Terms Governing Use and Reproduction

All requests subject to limitations noted in departmental policies on reproduction.

Citation

[after identification of item(s)], William Douglas Sermons, Archives and Manuscript Dept., Pitts Theology Library, Emory University.

Processing

Processed by Cynthia Crouch, 1986 September.

Collection Description

Scope and Content Note

A collection of nineteen sermons delivered by Reverend William Douglas, Prebendary of Westminster and Canon Residentiary of Sarum and Salisbury. The sermons are copied in three leather-bound volumes. The volumes are dated 1807, although one of the sermons was delivered in 1805.

Emory Libraries provides copies of its finding aids for use only in research and private study. Copies supplied may not be copied for others or otherwise distributed without prior consent of the holding repository.

Container List

Volume 1

Box	Folder	Content
		Sermon 1: On the reasonableness, in some cases, of wanting to die.
		Sermon 2: On the just appreciation of the dignity of human nature, and the effect, which it ought to produce on our conduct.
		Sermon 3: On the reasonableness of the duties required of man.
		Sermon 4: On the duty of acquainting ourselves with the scriptures.
		Sermon 5: On Brotherly love.
		Sermon 6: On the advantages of public education.
		Sermon 7: On the inefficacy of a deathbed repentance.
		Sermon 8: On trust in God.

Volume 2

		Sermon 9: On the objects, which Christianity was designed to effect, in the state of man, and on the degree in which they have been accomplished.
		Sermon 10: Preached at second Visitations on the charges brought against the Regular clergy by the dissenters.
		Sermon 11: Preached on the martyrdom of King Charles 1st.
		Sermon 12: On religious principle.
		Sermon 13: Preached at Sarum Cathedral on the 5th of Dec[ember] 1805 being the day appointed for a general Thanksgiving for the victory over the combined French and Spanish fleets.
		Sermon 14: Doing good proved to be the absence of Christian virtue.

Volume 3

		Sermon 15: "And everyone, that hath this hope in him, purifieth himself, even as He is pure."
		Sermon 16: Adversity the best school for practical wisdom and moral improvement.
		Sermon 17: On the nature of the relation in which stand to God and on the effects which it ought to produce on our religious opinions.
		Sermon 18: Preached at Nearington, Births [?], as a charity sermon, for the benefits of the parochial schools.
		Sermon 19: We preach Christ crucified, to the Jews a stumbling block and to the Greeks foolishness.
