used in a funeral service conducted at the Independent Chapel in Melbourn, England, in October, 1833.

Scope and Content Note

The volume consists of two hundred and seven pages containing one hundred and seventy six handwritten hymns with no musical arrangement. The full title is “Original Hymns on various Subjects, chiefly composed in Scripture Expressions. Including All the Books of the Old and New Testament.” The first twelve pages are a table of first lines arranged alphabetically. The last four pages list Biblical chapters and verses with the corresponding hymn. A short preface indicates that Collishaw composed the hymns for his “own Amusement and Edification; and were never intended to come into print.”
