

SECKINGER, ERNEST WARDLOW.
Ernest Wardlow Seckinger, A Brief Personalized
History of Young Harris College, 1886-1993

Emory University
Pitts Theology Library
1531 Dickey Drive, Suite 560
Atlanta, GA 30322
404-727-4166

Descriptive Summary

Creator: Seckinger, Ernest Wardlow.
Title: Ernest Wardlow Seckinger, A Brief Personalized History of Young Harris College, 1886-1993
Call Number: Manuscript Collection No. 265
Extent: 0.2 cubic ft. (1 folder)
Abstract: Consists of one copy of Seckinger's manuscript, A Brief Personalized History of Young Harris College.
Language: Materials entirely in English.

Administrative Information

Restrictions on Access

Unrestricted access.

Terms Governing Use and Reproduction

All requests subject to limitations noted in departmental policies on reproduction.

Citation

[after identification of item(s)], Ernest Wardlow Seckinger, A Brief Personalized History of Young Harris College, Archives and Manuscript Dept., Pitts Theology Library, Emory University.

Processing

Processed by Joan S. Clemens, 2003.

Collection Description

Biographical Note

Ernest Wardlow Seckinger was born on May 20, 1917 to Frank B. and Gertrude Exley Seckinger in Effingham County, Georgia. He attended Effingham Academy and Young Harris College. Seckinger received his A.B. from Emory University and his B.D. from Candler School of Theology at Emory. He completed his Doctor of Ministry at Candler in 1984 after one year of post graduate work at Yale Divinity School.

A member of the South Georgia Conference of the United Methodist Church, Seckinger served churches in every district except Americus. He retired in 1983 but continued to serve churches as a supply pastor. Seckinger was active in numerous civic and conference activities including the Southeastern Jurisdiction Commission on Archives and History. He was elected an Honorary Member of the Southeastern Jurisdiction Historical Society in 1995.

In addition to his history of Young Harris College, Seckinger wrote Grievers Becoming Healers: Involving Laity in Grief Ministry (his dissertation), a history of Effingham Camp Ground, and numerous meditations for The Upper Room.

Quimby married Jessie Vannerson of Savannah, Georgia, in 1949. They have five children. The Seckingers live in Young Harris, Georgia, where they are active in Sharp Memorial United Methodist Church.

Biographical data supplied by Ernest W. Seckinger, Sr.

Scope and Content Note

This small collection consists of a copy of Seckinger's manuscript, A Brief Personalized History of Young Harris College, which he originally delivered to the North Georgia Conference Historical Society and Commission on Archives and History in 1993. The history covers the time period 1886 to 1993. The first part includes research for 1886 to 1936. From 1936 to 1993, Seckinger includes his own memories and impressions of the college. The manuscript also includes an appendix that contains a history of Susan B. Harris Chapel written by T. Cecil Myers, a history of Sharp Memorial United Methodist Church written by Jerry A. Taylor, an address by Bishop C. W. Hancock delivered in 1944 at Young Harris, Seckinger's Haiku snow log of the blizzard of 1993, and copies of newspaper articles relating to Young Harris.

