

SMITH, S. M. (SIDNEY MYERS), 1813-1862.
S. M. Smith Diaries, 1840-1851, 1862

Emory University
Pitts Theology Library
1531 Dickey Drive, Suite 560
Atlanta, GA 30322
404-727-4166

Descriptive Summary

Creator: Smith, S. M. (Sidney Myers), 1813-1862.
Title: S. M. Smith Diaries, 1840-1851, 1862
Call Number: Manuscript Collection No. 341
Extent: 0.17 cubic ft. (1 box)
Abstract: Consists of two bound volumes of manuscript diaries by Sidney Myers Smith.
Language: Materials entirely in English.

Administrative Information

Restrictions on Access

Unrestricted access.

Terms Governing Use and Reproduction

All requests subject to limitations noted in departmental policies on reproduction.

Citation

[after identification of item(s)], S. M. Smith Diaries, Archives and Manuscript Dept., Pitts Theology Library, Emory University.

Processing

Processed by Aimee Morgan, 2007.

Collection Description

Biographical Note

Sidney Myers Smith was born in Franklin County, Georgia, on April 22, 1813. He was the son of John M. Smith, a Methodist minister who founded Mount Gilead Methodist Episcopal Church South in Fulton County, and John's wife Nancy.

According to a biographical sketch written by Smith's brother, Peyton Pierce Smith, Sidney Myers Smith was licensed as a preacher on October 14, 1835. He joined the Georgia Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in December 1839. Smith served as an itinerant preacher for about 15 years, then located on December 19, 1855. Although he lacked formal education, his sermons were well-received and he was a popular preacher.

Emory Libraries provides copies of its finding aids for use only in research and private study. Copies supplied may not be copied for others or otherwise distributed without prior consent of the holding repository.

Smith married Aseneth W. Boring on January 15th, 1833, and was the father of seven children. He died in Savannah on November 4, 1862.

Scope and Content Note

Two bound volumes of manuscript diaries by Sidney Myers Smith, covering the years from 1840-1851. Most of the entries are brief, indicating where Smith preached as an itinerant minister within the Georgia Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church (which became part of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South following the 1844 split within U.S. Methodism). At the end of each year Smith listed the names of all the people he received into the church that year, as well as all the people he baptized.

The first diary volume bears a stamp indicating that it was microfilmed by the Georgia Department of Archives and History on May 13, 1964.

Also included with the diaries is a memorial sketch of Smith's life, written by his brother Peyton P. Smith.

Container List

Box	Folder	Content
1	1	Diary, 1840-1846
1	2	Diary, 1847-1851
1	3	Memorial Sketch of Sidney Myers Smith, circa 1862
