Collection Description

Historical Note

In the final year of WWII, meetings were held between the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Association (UNRRA) and Foreign Missions Conference of North America: Committee on East Asia, discussing potential involvement in aiding Asian countries affected by the war. Specifically, the conversation concerned Korea, Japan, and China in terms of humanitarian aid, missionary work, and the development of Christian education in East Asia. Christian missionaries would later agree to stay in Korea, Japan, and China to aid these nations with medical research, reconstruction, and restoring the spirituality of the nations.

Scope and Content Note

This collection contains documents spanning from summer of 1944 to spring of 1947, collected together in three bound volumes. The types of documents in these volumes are research notes, field reports, newsletters, news articles, and letters. The documents are compiled together from various organizations relating to the Foreign Missions Conference of North America. The subject matter of these documents vary from insight on the reconstruction effort in East Asia, the aftereffects of war on people, improvement of Chinese medical care facilities, observations on the political stability in China, and medical insight into aspergillin research and its relation to tuberculosis.

Arrangement Note

Received as a bound collection, organized into three volumes.
