Collection DescriptionBiographical Note

Benny Andrews (1930-2006) was an African American painter and collage artist as well a political activist. He was born on November 13, 1930 in Plainview, Georgia, a small community three miles from Madison, Georgia, to sharecroppers George Andrews and Viola (Perryman) Andrews, the second of ten children, and the first in his family to graduate from high school. He married Mary Ellen Smith in 1957 and had two sons and one daughter: Christopher, Thomas, and Julia. Andrews and Smith divorced in 1976 and he married Nene Humphrey in 1986.

Andrews graduated from Burney Street High School (Madison, Georgia) in 1948 and received a college scholarship for his work in the local 4-H organization to Fort Valley State College (Fort Valley, Georgia). Before he left, he spent a summer in Atlanta painting murals. When the scholarship ended two years later, he enlisted in the United States Air Force where he trained in Texas and later served in Korea as a staff sergeant from 1950-1954. After leaving the military, Andrews attended the School of the Art Institute of Chicago where he earned his Bachelors of Fine Arts in 1958. While there, Andrews earned money as an illustrator for record companies and drawing advertising illustrations for theater companies in Chicago.

In 1958, Andrews moved to New York settling on the Lower East Side. His work was accepted for exhibition in New York; Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; Detroit, Michigan; and Provincetown, Massachusetts. His first solo exhibition was at the Forum Gallery in New York in 1962. Between 1960 and 1970, he exhibited a number of places in the northeast including the Paul Kessler Gallery in Provincetown, Massachusetts, and at the Forum Gallery in New York City. In 1965, Andrews received a John Hay Whitney Fellowship, which was renewed the following year and used it to return to Georgia. His Autobiographical Series of paintings was inspired by this trip, and it established his affinity for producing several works unified by a theme.

Andrews taught at Queens College of the City University of New York for twenty-nine years and was a visiting lecturer at many colleges and universities across the country. He became a spokesman for artists, and in 1969, Andrews co-founded the Black Emergency Cultural Coalition (BECC) which protested the Harlem on my Mind exhibit at the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York for the lack of African American artists. From 1982-1984, he held the post of director of visual arts for the National Endowment for the Arts and was the recipient of numerous awards and accolades, including election into the National Academy in 1997. He died on November 10, 2006.

Series 4Photographs*Boxes 74-77; OP1, 4; BV 1-3; OBV 1-3*Scope and Content Note

This series consists of photograph albums, portraits, snapshots, and negatives of Benny Andrews and his family and friends from the 1920's until 2003. Portraits include those of Benny, Benny and Nene Humphrey together, portraits of Benny's children taken by Mary Ellen Andrews, and portraits of Nene and Benny's artwork, both individual pieces and in specific exhibits. Snapshots include those of Benny with friends and family and also of George Andrews' artwork, both individual pieces and in specific exhibits. The photograph albums were compiled by Benny, Veronica, and Viola Andrews. Benny's albums are comprised of photographs, newspaper clippings, cards, and sketches documenting his experience in the United States Air Force. Veronica's albums are comprised of photographs and typewritten information; one album includes comprehensive profiles on Benny's immediate and extended family and documents their interests and accomplishments.
