arts and entertainment. The largest part of the collection is comprised of materials relating to the church (1867-2008), including church and conference programs and materials relating to missions report on work, both at home and abroad. There is also a large collection of funeral and memorial service programs and a smaller collection of palm cards, which publicize a variety of religious events, churches, and people, including boy preachers and evangelists.

Present in the collection are yearbooks, programs, handbooks, advertisements, catalogs, pamphlets, and other printed materials relating to various fraternal organizations, clubs, and societies. Also present are yearbooks, flyers, and invitations relating to education and a small group of biographical materials. Business cards, funeral home fans, advertisements, and other promotional material comprise the business and professional materials; and the arts and entertainment materials include books, programs, a small number of poem cards, and graphic art. The majority of the items in this series pertain to musical performances; fewer pertain to poetry readings, festivals, and art shows. Other printed items include various cards, calendars, and other ephemera.

Arrangement Note

Organized into six series: (1) Religious, (2) Organizations, (3) Education, (4) Business and professional, (5) Arts and entertainment, (6) Printed ephemera.

Series 2

Organizations, 1871-2009

Scope and Content Note

This series contains yearbooks, programs, reports, handbooks, and other printed material relating to various fraternal organizations, political associations, clubs, and societies from 1871-1996. Items relating to the Masons and groups affiliated with the Masonic Order, including the Ancient Egyptian Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, Daughters of Isis, Order of the Eastern Star, and Heroines of Jericho, comprise a large part of this series. Many of their yearbooks, reports, addresses, programs, and handbooks relate to chapters in California from the 1960s-1970s. There is also a small collection of political materials, which includes election flyers, brochures, and surveys. Other clubs and societies represented are groups that serve a social or professional function; materials relating to these groups are more recent, primarily from the 1980s. The majority of the organizations represented relate to advancing the rights of minorities and to achieving racial equality. The publications of the organizations reflect their efforts to provide support for defense of human rights, to publicize their activities, and to appeal for support.

A variety of calendars related to organizations are contained in Series 6: Printed ephemera.

Series 3

Education, 1869-1992

Scope and Content Note

The series contains invitations, addresses, promotional booklets, yearbooks, and programs relating to various functions sponsored by educational institutions around the country from 1869-1992. The largest number of items represented includes commencement invitations, yearbooks, programs, and promotional materials from colleges in Georgia. Also of interest are yearbooks, invitations, and other material relating to public schools located primarily in Georgia. There is also a small amount of printed material pertaining to books and libraries, including a variety of bookplates, bookmarks, and book lists related to the African Americans.

Arrangement Note

Arranged in alphabetical order.

Series 5

Arts and entertainment, 1821-2014

Scope and Content Note

The arts and entertainment series includes programs, brochures, and advertisements relating to performers, performances, and events dating from 1821-1995. There is a small collection of caricature and children's literature (1897-1950). There is also a small amount of material relating to entertainers, fairs, festivals, film, and theatre. The graphic arts represented include engravings and promotions for exhibitions. Programs and advertisements relating to musicians and performances comprise the largest group of materials. Also included is a modest collection of poems and a program for a sports event.
