Collection Description

Biographical Note

Born to Walter Chisholm and Anna Cook on January 18, 1879, Frank Pierce Chisholm (d. 1977) worked for over sixty years as a Northern Field Representative for Tuskegee Institute. Frank Chisholm was an alumnus of Tuskegee (1902), and was also educated at Atlanta University and Harvard University. He was active in civic affairs, serving as manager of the Tuskegee Jubilee Singers, and as a member of several prominent organizations, including the George Washington Carver Foundation and the United Negro College Fund. Between 1901 and 1912, Chisholm functioned as a private attendant to Booker T. Washington.

On June 1, 1910, Frank Chisholm married Helen "Lou" James, a graduate of Hampton Normal and Agricultural School. From this union two children were born: Helen Emily and Frank Jr. (the later died as an infant). Helen James Chisholm (1876-1971) studied agricultural science and taught abroad at The Kamehameha Schools (1901-1904) in Honolulu, Hawaii, and the Penn School (1907) on St. Helena Island, off the coast of South Carolina. After she married and moved to Saybrook, Connecticut, which became the Chisholms' permanent residence, Helen J. Chisholm focused on free-lance writing, and maintained correspondence with family, friends and former colleagues. One of the many notable women in Helen James Chisholm's family is her niece, Ann Petry, author of The Street (1946).

Helen Emily Chisholm was born December 25, 1911, and was educated at Russell Sage College and Howard University, where she received her Master of Science in Psychology. She worked as a government employee in Washington, D.C., and taught at Connecticut College.

Scope and Content Note

The Frank and Helen Chisholm family papers consist of personal, professional and biographical documents from 1846-1994. Along with the collected correspondence of their daughter, Helen Emily, the Chisholm family papers include correspondence, photographs, writings, legal documents, printed material, and general ephemera.

Arrangement Note

Organized into seven series: (1) Biographical and genealogical material, (2) Correspondence, (3) Financial documents, (4) Writings, (5) Photographs, (6) Printed material, and (7) Ephemera.

Series 2

Correspondence, 1846-1985

Boxes 2 - 11

Scope and Content Note

The series consists of correspondence of the Chisholm family including Helen James, Frank Pierce, and Helen Emily Chisholm from 1846-1985. Overall, the correspondence illustrates the intimate interactions of an African-American family at the dawn and through the development of the twentieth century. Through personal and professional letters to and from family members, political leaders, educators, intellectuals and leaders of industry, one notices an ongoing commentary on the representation of African-American life and culture inside and outside of the American mainstream.

Helen James Chisholm: The correspondence consists of letters, greeting cards, postcards, and personal notes received by and regarding Helen "Lou" James Chisholm from 1846-1970. Helen Chisholm's correspondence begins during her last years at Hampton and continues extensively through her years teaching in Hawaii between 1901-1906. Helen James Chisholm maintained extensive correspondence with friends and extended family across the country concerning issues of race and gender for African-Americans throughout the greater part of the twentieth century. Helen Chisholm's niece and famous novelist, Ann Petry, was one of the prominent correspondents. During 1940, Helen J. Chisholm began collecting material regarding Reverend David Root, who was the legal guardian of Anna Houston, Helen's mother. Combined with her correspondence are original letters and copies of letters from David Root to his wife, Mary Frances, from 1846-1869. Helen Chisholm corresponded with a national and international network of friends, such as Laura Wheeler Waring, William H. Bush and Alice F. Beard. However, her main communication was with her sisters Bertha James Lane and Anna James, as well as her daughter, Helen Emily Chisholm.

Frank Pierce Chisholm: The correspondence (1910-1975) consists of Frank P. Chisholm's personal and professional letters. There are several files of letters written by Frank Chisholm to Mrs. Chisholm their daughter, Helen, during his frequent business trips. This correspondence also consists of letters accumulated during Frank Chisholm's association with the United Negro College Fund (1944-1959). While Mr. Chisholm was manager of the Tuskegee Jubilee Singer, he collected correspondence regarding the general business of the group, such as performance requests and letters of appreciation. In addition, documents from the George Washington Carver Foundation are included in this correspondence, highlighting Dr. Carver's contributions to science, and the commemoration of a United States postage stamp (1926-1952). Frank P. Chisholm's general correspondence includes letters to and from Tuskegee officials, such as Presidents Frederick D. Patterson (1935-1953) and Luther H. Foster (1953-1971).

Helen Emily Chisholm: Helen E. Chisholm's correspondence embodies a myriad of prominent literary, artistic, and political figures, including correspondents Rosamond Johnson, J. Saunders Redding, Georgia Douglas Johnson, Marian Anderson, Langston Hughes, Mary McLeod Bethune, and many others. This collection consists of general correspondence (1928-1975) with major correspondence from Allen R. Crite (1949-1958) and Erdix W. Caper (1944-1955).

Arrangement Note

Organized into three subseries: (2.1) Helen James Chisholm correspondence, (2.2) Frank P. Chisholm correspondence, and (2.3) Helen Emily Chisholm correspondence.

Series 4
Writings
Box 12: folders 8-13 - Box 14

Scope and Content Note

This series consists primarily of essays, articles, and diaries written by Frank, Helen J., and Helen E. Chisholm. Helen J. Chisholm produced a number of essays concerning various subjects relating to African Americans, such as "The Negro in Alabama," and "Achievements of Negro Women." However, her most ambitious project was an autobiography, "Unto the Third and Fourth Generation," where Chisholm mentions notable names like Frances Ellen Watkins Harper, Andrew D. White, and David Root.

Frank Chisholm wrote editorials relating to Tuskegee Institute and a few essays reflecting on his interactions with Booker T. Washington, George Washington Carver, and W.E.B. DuBois. Miscellaneous writings in this series include Dorothy B. Porter's "Early American Negro Writings: A Bibliographical Study" and a manuscript of "Canterbury Pilgrims" by Rena Keith Clisby.

Of particular interest in the diaries and journals subseries, are two volumes containing entries relating to Helen Chisholm's work at The Kamehameha Schools (1902-1904) in Honolulu, Hawaii.

Series 7
Ephemera
Boxes 28 - 30; OP7-13

Scope and Content Note

The series consists of artwork, address books, date books, notebooks, and miscellaneous ephemera. The artwork was created by a number of such prominent artists as Allan R. Crite, Edwin Harleston, and Ann Petry and includes greeting cards, postcards, watercolor paintings and drawings as well as narrative works relating to art. The series also contains collected calendars and address books of Helen J. Chisholm, which provide some information concerning the Chisholms' friends and extended family. Also present are notebooks kept by Helen J. Chisholm which suggest that she studied for at least one semester at Yale University around 1906. In addition there is a small group of general ephemera which includes cards of introduction, certificates and George Washington Carver commemorative postage stamps.

Arrangement Note

Organized into three subseries: (7.1) Artists and artwork, (7.2) Address books, date books, and notebooks; (7.3) General ephemera
