Collection Description

Biographical Note
Lt. John M. Davidson (October 21, 1829-January 17, 1917), Company C, 39th North Carolina Infantry Regiment, was the son of William Mitchell and Betsy Vance Davidson. The family moved to Texas in 1844 and returned to North Carolina in 1847. From 1855 to 1861 John M. Davidson “operated a store at Copper Hill, Tennessee in the vicinity of the copper mines in Tennessee in partnership with his brother Samuel.” In 1861 he apparently went to Virginia to try to sell “some of the stock of the store to the supply department of the Confederate Army in order to provide some money for the benefit of his family, which he left behind when he enlisted in May 1862 at Clinton, Tennessee.” His first wife, whom he married on November 1, 1855, was the former Miss Julia Dunn. She died in 1890, and he later married her sister. Julia, whose parents, Isaac M. Dunn and Eliza Dowell Dunn, operated a small hotel, Washington Hall, in Atlanta during the Civil War, lived in Atlanta (apparently not at the hotel) “from about 1862 until the surrender of the city to Sherman in 1864, at which time she and her small children were evacuated and traveled to Anderson, South Carolina in a boxcar, going by way of Macon.” After the war Davidson worked for the W & A Railroad as a station agent at Calhoun, Adairsville, and Kingston, Georgia, where he retired in 1901. John M. Davidson's older brother, Allen T. Davidson, served in the Confederate Congress. John was a first cousin of Zebulon Vance, Civil War governor of North Carolina.

Scope and Content Note
The collection consists of a microfilm copy of the papers of John M. Davidson from 1851-1960. The papers include 144 letters, some of which have typescript copies filmed after the originals. Three of the letters (January 30, 1863; July 26, 1864; August 4, 1864) are transcriptions of which the originals have been lost. Brief lists, giving date, place of origin, writer, and person addressed precede the letters of each year. Another transcription is an “Abstract from a letter written by John M. Davidson in May 1895” relating his experiences in the Atlanta Campaign, May 8 - June 15, 1864, and containing a brief paragraph about his subsequent army career. Several miscellaneous pieces, such as a furlough and a “Special Order,” are included.

Also included on the microfilm are: “Biographical Sketch of Isaac Dunn or McDunn, father of Julia A. Dunn who married John M. Davidson on November 1, 1855,” 2 pp. typed; “Emigration of Wm. Mitchell Davidson and Family from Buncombe County, North Carolina, to Texas in 1844,” 15 pp. typescript; photograph of Lt. John M. Davidson in his uniform; a portion (4 letters, April 19-May 19, 1961) of the correspondence between Mr. John L. Davidson, owner of the letters, and Dr. Bell I. Wiley of Emory University; and a scrapbook kept by John M. Davidson.

Arrangement Note
Arranged in chronological order.

the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis Railway; and a few letters, including one from Betsy Davidson to John M. Davidson, Swannanoah, March 31, 1859 and a letter from Samuel Davidson (John's brother), Valley Rivery, North Carolina, June 23, 1867. The other letters are letters of recommendation written for Davidson by various men in Asheville, North Carolina in December 1854 and January 1855, and a letter dated Salisbury, North Carolina, December 25, 1865, from a Masonic official, written for Julia Davidson to carry with her on the trip to join her husband in Calhoun, Georgia. The letter requests that any Mason who can help her in trouble or danger do so.

Original records

1 1 Transcriptions of some of the letters on the microfilm that did not film well. A list of those transcribed are filed before the transcriptions.

1 2 Typescript copy of a letter (acquired May 9, 1961) written by Zebulon Baird Vance (1830-1894; Chapel Hill, North Carolina) to his cousin, John M.
Davidson (Asheville, North Carolina), February 1, 1852. Vance, who later became Confederate governor of North Carolina, was attending the University.
His cousin, John, was clerking in the store of James Smith in Asheville.

1 2 Genealogical chart of part of the Davidson family, showing, among other things, the relationship with Zebulon Vance, prepared by the archivist. [not microfilmed]
