Collection Description

Biographical Note
Sir Hugh Greene (1910-1987), brother of Graham Greene, was a broadcasting official and publisher in Britain and a writer of detective fiction.

Scope and Content Note
The collection consists of the papers of Sir Hugh Greene circa 1921-1977. Papers relate to Sir Hugh Greene's research on popular detective fiction arrived with Sir Greene's personal library of detective books (See CL-I file for a complete inventory of this library). It includes a small amount of research correspondence (from the 1970's) with book dealers and research associates. Also present are photocopies of detective stories which Sir Greene was considering for inclusion in a never-completed anthology of stories by "The Colonial Rivals of Sherlock Holmes." Also of note are seven letters by the mystery writer William LeQueux (ca. 1921) and one Christmas greeting from Graham Greene.

Arrangement Note
Arranged by record type.
