Collection Description

Biographical Note
James V. Hatch (1928- ), theatre historian, has held numerous academic positions, most notably as Professor of English and Theatre, City College and University of New York (1965-1993), and as Fulbright Lecturer, Cinema Institute, Cairo, Egypt (1962-1965). Hatch has published widely on the subject of African American theatre.

Camille Billops (1933- ) filmmaker and artist, has had an extensive exhibition, teaching, and academic career. She has been a faculty member at Rutgers University, City University of New York, and for the United States Information Service in India. Since 1968, Billops has been the art editor of Indiana State University's Black American Literature Forum.

James Hatch and Camille Billops created the Hatch-Billops Collection in New York in 1968 while Billops and Hatch were teaching art and literature at the City College of New York. With the rise of the civil rights movement and a concomitant increase in racial consciousness, a demand rose for courses in black American art, drama and literature. Billops and Hatch found that very little had been published on the history of the African American cultural arts, and much that had been published was out of print. They began collecting primary materials for their students. Artists and writers also began to send material to them for safekeeping. With a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities, Billops and Hatch conducted oral histories with black artists in all disciplines. Billops began to photograph the works of black artists in exhibitions and private collections. Hatch began to collect published and unpublished plays, set designs, theater programs, and historical and biographical works. They also assembled a library of books, periodicals and clippings related to black cultural arts. Since 1981 Billops and Hatch have published Artist and Influence: The Journal of Black American Cultural History that features transcripts of interviews they regularly conduct in New York, as well as panel discussions and forums with minority artists.

Scope and Content Note
This subseries contains writings and associated research files of James Hatch from 1975-2005. The series includes typescript drafts, audio interviews, research files, and publishing files. A large portion of this series concerns Hatch's biography of Owen Dodson, Sorrow Is the Only Faithful One. Other material concerns Hatch's writings on African American theater including Black Playwrights, 1823-1977: An Annotated Bibliography of Plays and A History of African American Theater as well as Hatch's poetry and short stories. There are also two folders that include writings by other authors.

Subseries 1.1a
Sorrow Is the Only Faithful One, 1984-1996
Boxes 1 - 11, AV1

Scope and Content Note
This subseries contains audio interviews, research files, publishing files, and drafts related to Hatch's biography of Owen Dodson, Sorrow is the Only Faithful One. This series is almost entirely comprised of research material collected by Hatch about Dodson including his personal and professional associates and various institutions and topics that pertain to Dodson's life as a writer, scholar, director, and teacher. Audio interviews are of Dodson and other individuals who knew Dodson. Research files contain typed notes of Hatch's taped interviews and many also include supplemental materials such as printed material, clippings, and correspondence. Some files include photocopies of material Hatch collected from other archives. These photocopies vary from correspondence to clippings about Dodson to published and unpublished writings by Dodson. Hatch's original filing and naming system has been preserved as much as possible. Some files were either renamed or resorted when files contained no identifiable theme or original filing names were unhelpful.

Files that relate to the legalities of publication and research have been separated and placed at the end of this series. The series also contains a typescript draft of Sorrow Is the Only Faithful One.

Arrangement Note
Arranged by record type.
