went on to attend the Philadelphia College of Art. He was a successful commercial artist working as art director for J.M. Fields department stores, Black Theatre Magazine, and the New Lafayette Theatre in Harlem. He was also the co-owner of the Pamoja Studio Gallery, along with Bob Davis and Ollie Johnson. He was a founding member of the Weusi art collective, also based in Harlem, and took part in a number of black art exhibitions in the 1960s and 1970s.

Scope and Content Note

The collection consists primarily of photographs and printed material relating to Bill Howell. The photographs include images of Howell from childhood to adulthood and images of his family including his wife Bonnie, and son, David. The printed material includes a business card for Pamoja Studio Gallery, clippings about Howell, and several exhibit catalogs which include his work.

The collection also contains two items relating to Elizabeth Howell including her diploma from Beaumont School of Practical Nursing (Philadelphia), as well as a class picture (1957).

Arrangement Note

Arranged by record type.
