Collection Description

Biographical Note

Tracy Mathewson, photojournalist, was born ca. 1875, worked for the Atlanta Georgian, and other newspapers, and was personal photographer to Edward, Prince of Wales (who became the Duke of Windsor). He retired to Jasper, Georgia, in 1954, and he received the Burt Williams award (1955) for distinguished service in photography.

Scope and Content Note

The collection consists of the papers of Tracy Mathewson from 1893-1960. The papers include correspondence, photographs, articles and clippings, and manuscripts. Letters, articles, and clippings pertain to Mathewson or his work as a still and motion picture photographer; photographs are originals and copies of Mathewson's photographs and newsreel stills of the Atlanta fire (1917), scenes from the Spanish-American War, both World Wars, hunting dogs (which became a specialty), Mathewson himself, and other persons, including sports figures, politicians, and Georgia Tech football teams and coaches; and manuscripts are of stories and reminiscences written by Mathewson.

Arrangement Note

Arranged by record type.
