Collection Description

Biographical Note

John Stuart McKenzie (1922-2005) was a graphic designer and editorial cartoonist from Atlanta, Georgia. A native of Canada, he served as a Royal Canadian Air Force bomber in World War

Emory Libraries provides copies of its finding aids for use only in research and private study. Copies supplied may not be copied for others or otherwise distributed without prior consent of the holding repository.

II. McKenzie graduated from Emory University in 1948 and was on the staff of the Emory Wheel. After a short stint as an editorial cartoonist at The Atlanta Journal, he began working as a graphic designer and printing executive, retiring from the Stein Printing Company in 1995. McKenzie also freelanced as a graphic designer and calligrapher. He married Virginia Lee Brown; together they had three daughters and a son.

Scope and Content Note

The collection consists of the papers of John Stuart McKenzie from 1948-1996. The papers include sketches, newspaper columns, writings, awards, and photographs. Original editorial cartoon sketches concern topics such as postwar housing, the Ku Klux Klan, Herman Talmadge, M.E. Thompson, the Columbians (a post-World War II hate group), Atlanta highway construction, the Atlanta Community Chest, and Stone Mountain. The collection also contains Christmas cards designed by McKenzie, columns written for the Emory Wheel while he was a student and copies of columns written for The Georgia Printer, drawings for The Southern Coach and Athlete, and calligraphy samples.

Arrangement Note

Arranged by record type.
