Collection Description

Scope and Content Note

The collection consists of oral history interviews conducted for an Emory University Special Collections and Archives (now the Stuart A. Rose Manuscript, Archives, and Rare Book Library) project in 2000 and 2004 by Emory University students enrolled in Tom Chaffin's New South History class. The interviews are of various individuals discussing their experiences in the South. Topics of discussion include Emory University, Atlanta, Georgia, southern music, the civil rights movement, desegregation, and southern politics. For each interview, there is an original audiocassette tape and a use copy and a project file. The project file consists of a typed transcript of the interview, any related correspondence or research material, and in most cases, a resume or similar biographical information. Signed release forms are located in the donor files held by Emory University's Stuart A. Rose Manuscript, Archives, and Rare Book Library.
