Collection DescriptionBiographical Note

Scope and Content Note

The collection consists of the papers of F. Gertrude (Florence Gertrude) Page from 1862-1917, including correspondence, photographs, printed material and ephemera. Correspondents include her uncle, James E. Mason, a professor at Livingstone College in North Carolina, Charles Remond Douglass, son of Frederick Douglass, and other Douglass family members. Ephemera includes her father's Liberian passport dated 1962, and a mourning card from the Frederick Douglass family. The collection also includes Page's will.
