Collection DescriptionBiographical Note

The Pindar family (including the Montgomerys, O'Connors, Tebeaus, and Treutlens) has long lived in Georgia, particularly in Savannah, Brunswick, and Valdosta. The Tebeau family owned a plantation in Tebeauville (later Waycross), Georgia. Family businesses included Pindar Real Estate Company, Jacksonville Blow Pipe Company, Montgomery Blo-Hog, and Valdosta Greenhouses. Mary Montgomery Pindar Leigh was a portraitist. The family was very involved with many social and cultural organizations in Savannah; including the Oglethorpe Club, Savannah Music Club, Savannah Symphony Society, Savannah Yacht Club, and Cotillion Club. Many members of the family were Episcopalians.

Scope and Content Note

The Pindar family papers include correspondence, writings, legal records, other documents, photographs, newspaper clippings, and artifacts. The papers of the Pindar family were created or collected by Helen Fairfax Montgomery Pindar (1894-1974) and Norris Tebeau Pindar III (1893-1974). The collection consists of the papers of members of the Pindar, Tebeau, Montgomery, and O'Connor families. The majority of the papers document the lives of Helen Fairfax Montgomery and Norris Tebeau Pindar, III, and the lives of their siblings and children.

The correspondence comprises the majority of the collection. Significant topics include family news and health, genealogy, changing race relations, the wars (World War II and the Korean Conflict), social life in Savannah, and family businesses (Pindar Real Estate, the Montgomery Blo-Hog, and Valdosta Greenhouses.) A more detailed correspondence index is available at the Stuart A. Rose Manuscript, Archives, and Rare Book Library.

The writings include a diary kept during 1890 by an unidentified family member and a commonplace book from the mid-to-late nineteenth century (recipes, clippings, collected wisdom, and other information deemed worth keeping). The writings in the collection also include poetry by several members of the Montgomery family, and essays written by Helen Pindar, her son-in-law Beverly Leigh, and grandson John David Leigh, II.

The remainder of the collection includes photographs, a certificate for the sale of a slave (1792), an indenture between the Sheriff of Chatham County, Georgia, and John Eppinger (1815), and newspaper clippings documenting family activities, births, deaths, marriages, organizational activities, and occupations. Perhaps the most significant photographic image is a tintype of two slave girls who were given to Harriet Pindar upon her marriage to Joseph Mooney. Most of the other photographs are portraits of family members.

Arrangement Note

Arranged by record type.
