Collective Description

Biographical Note
Ernest Rogers (1897-1967), the son of Wallace R. (a Methodist minister and Mary (Brinsfield) Rogers, was born October 27, 1897 in Atlanta, Georgia. He attended the Thomson High School and the Atlanta Boys High School and received a Bachelor of Science degree from Emory University in 1920. At Emory, he was a member of Phi Gamma, the Emory Literary society, and the Alpha Epsilon Upsilon and DVS honor societies. He was active in the Glee Club, the Mandolin Club, and the Debating Society, of which he was the Champion Debater in 1919 and 1920. Rogers was founder and first Editor of the Emory Wheel, a campus newspaper. In 1920, he was president of both his class and the entire student body. He was elected an alumnus member of Phi Beta Kappa since there was no chapter at Emory while he was an undergraduate. Shortly after his graduation from Emory, Rogers was a feature writer for the Atlanta Journal (1958). Ernest Rogers was married and had one child, Wallace Rogers.

Scope and Content Note
The collection consists of the papers of Ernest Rogers from 1918-1967. The papers include correspondence, biographical information, writings, scrapbooks, a diary (1918-1919), newspaper columns (1945-1967), photographs, book illustrations, notebooks, sound recordings, minutes, and memorabilia.

Correspondence is between Rogers and his father (Methodist clergyman, Dr. Wallace Rogers). Writings include Rogers' musical compositions and short stories, the manuscript, galley proofs, and four of the original illustrations by the Atlanta Journal cartoonist, Eric, for Peachtree Parade; the diary/journal is Rogers'; scrapbooks were compiled by Rogers and by his parents; newspaper columns are Rogers' from the Atlanta Journal; memorabilia includes various awards and certificates; photographs are of Rogers, his birthday celebrations, O.B. Keeler, and Col. James S. Childers; notebooks contain speeches, columns, expense lists, information on WSB Radio and Atlanta personalities; minutes are of the Breakfast Club, an organization of Atlanta businessmen to which Rogers belonged; sound recordings (disc and tape) relate to Rogers' birthday parties, his radio show (1952), a baptismal ceremony performed by his father, Emory University, Bobby Jones, and a James Whitcomb Riley story.

Arrangement Note
Arranged by record type.
