Collection Description

Biographical Note

Larry Jerome Rubin (February 14, 1930-) was born in Bayonne, New Jersey, in 1930, and from the time he was two until he was seventeen he lived in Miami Beach, Florida, where his father was a pioneer pharmacist. He is a graduate of Emory University (A.B., 1951), from which he also holds his advanced degrees, taking his Ph. D. in 1956. At present, Mr. Rubin is Assistant Professor of English at Georgia Institute of Technology. During the academic year 1961-1962, he was Visiting Professor of American Literature at Jagiellonian University, Krakow, Poland.

Since 1956 about two hundred of Mr. Rubin's poems have appeared in such magazines as Harper's, Poetry, Sewanee Review, Kenyon Review, Saturday Review, Prairie Schooner, and London Magazine, as well as two Parisian journals. Several have been anthologized, and he received the Reynolds Lyric Award for 1961 from the Poetry Society of America. Mr. Rubin's prose writings include a short story in New Campus Writing No. 2 and critical articles in Modern Language Notes and Twentieth Century Literature.

Scope and Content Note
