Collection Description

Biographical Note

Ronald Schuchard is Goodrich C. White Professor of English at Emory University, where he began his career as teacher and scholar in 1969. He completed his graduate work at the University of Texas, Austin, and teaches courses in 20th century British, Irish and Anglophone literature. He is author of numerous studies of modern authors, particularly T.S. Eliot and W.B. Yeats. His book, Eliot's Dark Angel (Oxford University Press, 1999), won the Robert Penn Warren/Cleanth Brooks Award for Outstanding Literary Criticism and the Annual SAMLA Studies Award for the best book published by a member of the South Atlantic Modern Language Association. He is the editor of T.S. Eliot's Clark and Turnbull Lectures, The Varieties of Metaphysical Poetry (Faber & Faber, 1993; Harcourt, Brace, 1994; Harvest, 1996), and co-editor with John Kelly of The Collected Letters of W.B. Yeats, Volume 3 (Oxford University Press, 1994) and Volumes 4-5. During the 2000-2001 academic year, he was a Visiting Fellow at Trinity College, Dublin, and a Senior Research Fellow at Queen's University, Belfast.

Schuchard has been a key figure in developing an outstanding archive of twentieth century Irish and English manuscript collections in the Woodruff Library of Emory University and in organizing the Richard Ellmann Lectures in Modern Literature, inaugurated by Seamus Heaney in 1988. He is the former director of Emory University's British Studies Program at University College, Oxford and of the Yeats International Summer School in Sligo, Ireland. He is an active member of the Modern Language Association, the T.S. Eliot Society of St. Louis, the New York Yeats Society, the American Conference for Irish Studies, the International Association for the Study of Irish Literatures, and the Grollier Club of New York. In addition to serving on the editorial boards of Yeats Annual, The Recorder: Journal of the American Irish Historical Society and Texas Studies in Literature and Language, he is a member of the advisory boards of The Correspondence of Samuel Beckett and the W.B. Yeats Drama Foundation. His research has been supported by American Council of Learned Societies and National Endowment for the Humanities grants; and in addition to serving as a Fulbright Senior Lecturer in Greece, he has been a Visiting Fellow at Wolfson College, Oxford, and twice a Research Fellow at the Institute of English Studies, University of London.

Scope and Content Note

The Ronald Schuchard papers primarily consist of materials relating to Ron Schuchard's relationship with Seamus Heaney from 1981-2005, including correspondence, drafts of lectures for the Richard Ellmann Lectures in Modern Literature, writings, printed materials, and photographs. The bulk of the papers consist of correspondence between Heaney and Schuchard (1981-2005) and reflects the planning for the Richard Ellmann Lectures in Modern Literature at Emory University, which Heaney delivered in 1988 and the friendship between Schuchard and Heaney. Also present in the papers are Seamus Heaney's drafts of the Ellmann Lectures and drafts prepared for the publication of the lectures in The Place of Writing (1989), as well as a small group of printed materials relating to Heaney and a small number of photographs.

Arrangement Note

Organized into five series: (1) Correspondence, (2) Richard Ellmann Lectures in Modern Literature, (3) Writings of others, (4) Printed materials, and (5) Photographs.
