Collection Description*Biographical Note

Mildred Jean Thompson (1936-2003), African American painter, sculptor, printmaker, musician, and photographer, was born in Jacksonville, Florida, in 1936. Thompson began her formal training as an artist at Howard University in 1953, under the guidance of James A. Porter. After graduating, she traveled to Germany where she studied at the Hochschule für bildende Künste Hamburg. In 1961 Thompson briefly returned to the United States. However, after encountering racism while trying to exhibit her art, Thompson expatriated to Düren, Germany. She returned to the United States once again in 1974, assuming a position as artist-in-residence in Tampa, Florida. She worked for a few years in Washington, D.C., and Paris before finally settling in Atlanta, Georgia, with her partner, Donna Jackson.

While Thompson is perhaps best known as an abstract painter, her oeuvre also includes wooden sculptures, drawings, lithographs, and photographs. She was also involved in a variety of other creative pursuits. Thompson was a musician/songwriter who wrote original music and performed in a blues band, Wedo Blues, with Donna Jackson. She also wrote poetry and prose, and served as a contributing editor at Art Papers, an Atlanta-based art magazine, from 1987 through the early 2000s. Throughout her career, Thompson taught drawing and art courses at numerous institutions in the United States and Germany, including Dusseldorfer Schule Kollegium in Düren, Spelman College in Atlanta, and The Atlanta College of Art.

Scope and Content Note

The collection consists of the papers of Mildred Thompson from 1949-2009 and includes correspondence and personal papers; artwork; writings; subject and teaching files; printed material; photographs; audiovisual material; and born digital materials. The materials document Thompson's work as an artist, musician, photographer, writer, and teacher.

Correspondence is both professional and personal in nature, and includes numerous letters from Thompson's friend and fellow artist Gillian Lewis; personal papers include notebooks, a scrapbook, and other materials. Artwork includes numerous hand-made books composed of original photographs by Thompson, as well as three other original works of art. Writings consist of poetry and prose, including several children's books with illustrations by Thompson and articles written for Art Papers, as well as a few pages of sheet music. Subject files primarily relate to Thompson's projects and exhibitions, while teaching files document her teaching career at various institutions, including Spelman College in Atlanta and The Atlanta College of Art. The bulk of the printed material consists of articles by Thompson and materials pertaining to Thompson, primarily about her exhibitions. Photographs include those taken by Thompson, including portraits and a few albums, as well as photographs of her and a small number of other photographs. Audiovisual material consists primarily of sound recordings of Thompson's original keyboard compositions. There are also sound recordings of Thompson's blues band, Wedo Blues, and a small number of recordings of other events. Video recordings include events featuring Thompson, interviews with her, and videos of Wedo Blues performances. Born digital materials date from 1993 to 2000, and include email correspondence and documents about projects, exhibits and creative activities.

Arrangement Note

Organized into eight series: (1) Correspondence and personal papers, (2) Artwork, (3) Writings, (4) Subject and teaching files, (5) Printed material, (6) Photographs, (7) Audiovisual material, and (8) Born digital materials.

Series 1
Correspondence and personal papers, 1949-2006
Boxes 1-6 and OBV 1

Scope and Content Note

The series consists of Thompson's correspondence and personal papers from 1949-2006. The correspondence from 1960 is almost entirely personal correspondence from Gillian Lewis, Thompson's friend and fellow artist. Correspondence from later periods includes letters from fellow artists and correspondence pertaining to exhibitions and projects, as well as personal correspondence from family and friends. Thompson's personal papers primarily contain notebooks (some with drawings), appointment books, address books, resumes, and school records. Also found in personal papers are materials relating to Thompson's blues band, Wedo Blues, primarily information about performances. Of particular interest is a wood-bound scrapbook hand carved and compiled by Thompson circa 1950-1954, which includes photographs of Thompson, family, and friends; drawings by Thompson; memorabilia from Stanton Senior High School in Jacksonville, Florida, and from Howard University. Two folders of inventories, price lists, and invoices for Thompson's artwork are also noteworthy.

Arrangement Note

Correspondence is arranged in chronological order. Personal papers are arranged in alphabetical order.

Writings, 1969-2009
Boxes 10-15 and BV 5-6

Scope and Content Note

The series consists of writings by Thompson and others. Thompson's writings include poetry and prose written from 1969-2003. The bulk of Thompson's poetry is untitled poems that she submitted to online poetry contests. There are also a few song lyrics and sheet music composed by Thompson. Thompson's prose consists of children's books, which include original illustrations by Thompson; articles; interviews with artists, which may have been intended for publication in Art Papers; manuscripts for an unpublished book entitled Artists Talking Art; and various other writings, including some autobiographical writings. Writings by others consists primarily of articles about Thompson.

Arrangement Note

Organized into two subseries: (3.1) Writings by Thompson and (3.2) Writings by others.

Subseries 3.1

Writings by Thompson, 1969-2003

Boxes 10-14 and BV 5-6

Scope and Content Note

The subseries consists of writings by Thompson, including poetry and prose. The majority of the poetry is untitled. During 2000 and 2001, Thompson wrote on average two poems a day (one haiku and one free verse poem) which she submitted to online poetry contests. The subseries also contains a small amount of lyrics which Thompson wrote for her blues band, Wedo Blues, and other sheet music composed by Thompson. In addition, there are various prose writings including three children's books, the typescript drafts of which include original pencil and ink drawings by Thompson. The subseries also contains articles and interviews with artists, which may have been intended for publication in Art Papers, the Atlanta-based magazine where she was an associate editor from 1987 through the early 2000s. Thompson later compiled many of these articles and interviews into an unpublished book manuscript entitled Artists Talking Art. Some autobiographical writings and other prose are also present.

Series 6
Photographs, 1969-2004
Box 20, OP 31-32, and BV 7-9

Scope and Content Note

The series consists of photographs taken by Thompson and others. Photographs by Thompson include portraits and photographs of events. There are also a few photograph albums, which include photographs taken by Thompson that document her international travels. The album "The Hour Glass Project: The Caversham Press" includes photographs as well as an essay by Thompson describing her trip to Caversham, South Africa, as part of a grant-funded residency program. Two photograph albums document Thompson's trip to Dakar, Senegal, for the Biennale Internationale des Arts, and they include portraits and photographs of local scenes. The series also contains an album, "Germany in Transition," that documents street scenes in Berlin and other German cities circa 1990 after the fall of the Berlin wall; this unfinished album contains photographs that have been mounted as well as loose photographs. Among the photographs of Thompson is a series of oversized photographs taken by Karl Peters in the late 1960s and photographs of Thompson performing with her blues band, Wedo Blues. Other photographs include various individuals and places. Photographs of Thompson's artwork can be found in Series 2 Artwork.

Series 8

Born digital materials, 1993-2000

Scope and Content Note

Born digital materials in this collection come from a set of diskettes included in Thompson's personal papers, with files dating from 1993 to 2000. The majority of Thompson's born digital files are from 1999 and 2000, and include email correspondence, documents about projects, exhibits, and creative activities, and a small amount of digital photographs and art.

Terms Governing Use and Reproduction

Researchers are not permitted to copy or download any digital files from the computer workstation.

Restrictions on Access

Access to born digital materials is only available at the computer workstation in the Manuscript Archives and Rare Book Library (the Rose Library). Use of the original digital media is restricted.

Processing Note

The born digital materials currently available to researchers are transferred from 7 3.5" floppy disks. Bitstream images of the disks were created with FTK Imager imaging software and master copies of these disk images were ingested into a Fedora instance at Emory University for long-term preservation. Individual files were extracted from disk images using FTK Imager and were scanned for viruses using McAfee's anti-virus software. Following this work, extracted files were screened for private and sensitive information and duplicate files were identified and merged using the BitCurator Environment. The reviewed and processed text-based files were converted to PDF using Adobe Acrobat Pro. Image files were migrated to JPEG.

Files have been organized into three directories: Email correspondence; Still images; and Other documents.

Email correspondence had been migrated to text or Microsoft Word files, before being saved to these floppy disks. This process affected formatting, although this does not appear to have obscured any content.

Four additional 3.5" floppy disks were found to be blank.
