Subseries 2.1
William Faulkner research and writings
Boxes 2 - 12, OP1

Scope and Content Note

The subseries contains material related to Floyd Watkins' research and writing on William Faulkner. The largest part of this material relates to Old Times in the Faulkner Country, the book that Floyd Watkins wrote with John Cullen.

Writings include working notes, manuscripts, typescripts, carbons of typescripts, and other materials related to Floyd Watkins' writings on William Faulkner. Also present here are writings by John Cullen and James Faulkner ("Jimmy"). Some folders contain correspondence related to these various writings. Most of the Old Times in the Faulkner Country material date from the late 1950's and early 1960's when Floyd Watkins and John Cullen were collaborating on their book. Floyd Watkins' other writings on Faulkner date to 1989. This subseries also contains a number of short stories and other writings by James Faulkner (William Faulkner's nephew). Notable among these is James Faulkner's account of the death and funeral of William Faulkner.

The large majority of the correspondence in this subseries is between John Cullen and Floyd Watkins. There is one letter here from William Faulkner to John Cullen. Other correspondents include: Joseph Blotner, James Faulkner, James Meriwether, and Katherine Anne Porter among others. In addition to Old Times in the Faulkner Country, other subjects covered here include: Joseph Blotner's biography of Faulkner, Floyd Watkins' various articles on Faulkner, and James Faulkner's short stories. Most of this material dates from 1956 to 1969, with some from 1978 to 1982.

The subseries contains a variety of different types of printed material collected by Floyd Watkins and relating to William Faulkner. It includes some complete magazines, journals, and newspapers in addition to clippings, and other similar items. Of special note is the Life feature on Faulkner and the issue of the Oxford Eagle that covers Faulkner's death and funeral.

The subseries also contains an assortment of Faulkner material arranged by subject. It includes source material for Faulkner research, and material relating to Faulkner conferences, and class trips to Oxford. The material dates from the 1950's to the 1980's.

The audiovisual material includes photographs, slides, cassette tapes (including transcripts of some tapes), reel-to-reel tapes, and videocassettes. Subjects covered here include Floyd Watkins' trips to Oxford, his interviews with John Cullen, and John Faulkner's painting.

Arrangement Note

Organized into (1) Writings by Floyd Watkins, John Cullen, and James Faulkner, (2) Correspondence, (3) Printed material, (4) Subject files, and (5) Audiovisual material.

Subseries 2.2

Robert Penn Warren research and writings

Boxes 13 - 28

Scope and Content Note

The subseries contains material relating to Robert Penn Warren Talking, Then and Now, and other writings by Floyd Watkins on Robert Penn Warren. Included here are edited versions of the interviews that went to make up Robert Penn Warren Talking, and typescripts from Then and Now (some of these typescripts include annotations in Warren's hand). Page proofs for Then and Now are also located in this subseries. Some of these folders contain letters by Warren to Floyd Watkins commenting on these books.

The correspondence contains a large number of letters between Floyd Watkins and Robert Penn Warren. Most of these letters date from 1976 to 1988. In addition there are letters here to and from other individuals regarding Floyd Watkins' research on Warren. Correspondents include: Brainard Cheney, John Hiers, Hiromi Itofugi, Andrew Lytle, Caroline Gordon, and others. Floyd Watkins' own correspondence with Random House is also located in this subseries. Also present here are a large number of Warren's letters that Floyd Watkins photocopied from the collections of other libraries around the country. This correspondence is much earlier, some dating from the twenties and thirties.

The subseries contains a variety of printed material about Robert Penn Warren that Floyd Watkins collected over the years. Also included here are several articles and poems by Robert Penn Warren. An assortment of clippings about Warren are found at the end of the subseries.

The subject files include a large number of Floyd Watkins' working notes (including notes from interviews he conducted and notes from his reading of Warren materials at other libraries). Also present here are a variety of different types of source material for Floyd Watkins' writings on Warren. Most of this material dates from the late 1970's.

The audiovisual material includes one photograph of Warren and John Crowe Ransom, one videocassette on Warren, and a number of sound recordings (reel to reel and cassette). The sound recordings include interviews with Warren and with Richard Bourne and Brainard Cheney.

Arrangement Note

Organized into (1) Writings by Floyd Watkins, (2) Correspondence, (3) Printed material, (4) Subject files, and (5) Audiovisual material.

Eudora Welty research and writings

Boxes 29 - 30a

Scope and Content Note

The subseries contains writings, correspondence, subject files, printed material, and audiovisual material relating to his writing on Eudora Welty. The writings include typescripts of three articles that Floyd Watkins wrote on Eudora Welty. The correspondence includes letters between Floyd Watkins and Eudora Welty (between 1982 and 1985), and Floyd Watkins' correspondence with a number of other individuals regarding Eudora Welty. One folder contains the photocopied correspondence of Eudora Welty from the Boston University library.

The printed material includes two articles that Floyd Watkins published on Eudora Welty, as well as several other articles written by other people. Also present here is a map of Hocking County, Ohio, and pamphlets from Clay County, West Virginia. This material is related to Floyd Watkins' research into Eudora Welty's family history. The subject files includes source material from Floyd Watkins' research on Welty, a variety of notes on Welty, and several student papers saved by Floyd Watkins. Audiovisual material is comprised of a videocassette on Welty produced by WNET.

Subseries 2.4

Thomas Wolfe research and writings

Boxes 31 - 35

Scope and Content Note

The subseries contains writings, correspondence, subject files, printed material, and audiovisual material relating to the publication of Thomas Wolfe's Characters. Writings include typescripts of Floyd Watkins writings on Thomas Wolfe, articles, lectures, and the typescript for Thomas Wolfe's Characters. Most of this material dates from the 1950's, though some is as recent as the 1970's.

Most of the correspondence in this subseries relates to the publication of Thomas Wolfe's Characters, though there is also correspondence related to Floyd Watkins' other research and writings on Wolfe. Correspondents include Myra Champion and Mabel Wolfe Wheaton. There are a large number of letters here between Floyd Watkins and the University of Oklahoma Press. Some of these regard possible legal action against Floyd Watkins and the press.

The printed material collected by Floyd Watkins on Thomas Wolfe mostly dates from the 1970's and 1980's. One item, however, dates from 1938, and there is also some material from the 1950's and 1960's. This material is composed largely of magazines and clippings. The arrangement is alphabetical by author or title.

The subject files includes some notes from Floyd Watkins' research on Wolfe, papers regarding funding for research, a contract and royalty statements for Thomas Wolfe's Characters, and a variety of source material that Floyd Watkins collected on Wolfe. Source material includes a geological survey map of Asheville and a transcript of Thomas Wolfe's school record from the University of North Carolina.

The audiovisual material includes photocopies of a number of photographs of Wolfe and Asheville scenes.

Arrangement Note

Organized into (1) Writings by Floyd Watkins, (2) Correspondence, (3) Printed material, (4) Subject files, and (5) Audiovisual material.
