Collection DescriptionBiographical Note

Robert Winship Woodruff (1889-1985), an Atlanta business leader and philanthropist, was born in Columbus, Georgia in 1889. Woodruff, the son of Ernest Woodruff and Emily Winship Woodruff, arrived in Atlanta with his family in 1893. After graduating from the Georgia Military Academy (now Woodward Academy), Woodruff attended Emory College (at Oxford) briefly before deciding he would rather work than finish school.

In 1909 Woodruff started shoveling sand at General Foundry and Pipe for sixty cents a day. Two years later, he got his first sales job selling fire extinguishers for General Fire Extinguisher Company. In 1912 he married Nell Hodgson, and he accepted an offer to work as a purchasing agent at Atlantic Ice & Coal, one of his father's companies. The Atlanta Ice & Coal job was short lived and he soon went to work as a salesman for the White Motor Company in Cleveland, Ohio. Over the next ten years, Woodruff worked his way up to vice president and general manager of the company.

Robert Woodruff left the White Motor Company in 1923 and took over as president of The Coca-Cola Company. In 1919 Woodruff's father, Ernest, the president of Trust Company of Georgia, assembled a stock syndicate, a holding company that purchased The Coca-Cola Company from Asa Candler and the Candler family. Under Robert W. Woodruff's leadership, Coca-Cola made "a peaceful near-conquest of the world," as Time magazine wrote. Although he retired in 1954, he continued to guide and influence the company as a member of the Board of Directors and as chairman of the Finance Committee.

Woodruff was an avid sportsman. In 1928 he purchased Ichauway, a 30,000-acre plantation in Baker County, Georgia with his friend and White Motor Company president Walter White. With its longleaf pines and wiregrass, Ichauway proved to be the perfect habitat for quail. But Ichauway Plantation was also a working farm complete with tenants working for shares. Ichauway held a central place in Woodruff's life.

Over the years, Woodruff, Atlanta's famous "Anonymous Donor," contributed millions of dollars to local civic and charitable causes. Woodruff believed southern philanthropists should focus their efforts on their own region because, at the time, there were few other resources to help the South so he focused his charitable efforts in Atlanta and Georgia. In Baker County he helped wipe out malaria and hookworm. In Atlanta, he helped build an arts center, and he gave to medical and educational institutions.

His first gift to Emory University was $40,000 in 1937 to establish the Robert Winship Memorial Clinic, a cancer clinic. This gift began a longstanding relationship between Woodruff and Emory University. This relationship culminated in 1979 when Woodruff and his brother George Waldo Woodruff decided to liquidate the assets of their parents' foundation, the Emily and Ernest Woodruff Fund, and donate the proceeds to Emory. This decision resulted in a gift of approximately $105 million to the university. At the time it was the largest gift to a university ever at the time. Other beneficiaries of Woodruff's eleemosynary projects included donating funds for the creation of what was known as Central City Park (now Woodruff Park) in downtown Atlanta and to the state of Georgia's purchase of Ossabaw Island, a barrier island off of Georgia's coast.

Woodruff died March 7, 1985, at the age of 95. He was buried at the Westview Cemetery in southwest Atlanta.

Scope and Content Note

The collection consists of papers of Robert Winship Woodruff from 1819-1993 (bulk 1924-1986). The papers include subject files, family papers, legal files, photographs and photograph albums, scrapbooks, personal papers, printed material, writings about Robert W. Woodruff, financial records, memorabilia, architectural drawings and maps, and audio-visual materials. The collection documents Woodruff's professional career, his personal life, and his philanthropic activities.

The subject files (Series 1), comprise the largest part of the collection. They consist of files that include correspondence, printed material, and unpublished documents about people, businesses, organizations, and subjects important to Robert W. Woodruff. Family papers (Series 2) contains correspondence from Woodruff to his parents; as well as papers of Woodruff's parents, Ernest and Emily Woodruff, and his brother, Henry F. Woodruff. The legal files (Series 3) relate to both Woodruff's personal and professional life and include files relating to his personal holding and investment companies as well as files relating to Coca-Cola and its competitors.

The photographs and photograph albums (Series 4) include professional images and amateur snapshots of Woodruff, his family, his associates, his work, his philanthropy, and his dogs and farm animals. It also includes number of photograph albums that capture Woodruff's time at Ichauway Plantation and TE Ranch. Series 5 consists of chronological scrapbooks and subject-oriented scrapbooks that document Woodruff's life.

Personal papers (Series 6) consists of Woodruff's appointment books, his famous Christmas cards featuring the bird paintings of Athos Menaboni, genealogy files and special occasion files as well as honors and awards given to him. The printed material (Series 7) contains clippings either about Woodruff or about topics that were important to Woodruff such as Atlanta, Coca-Cola, and Emory University. Series 8 includes typescripts and proofs of writings by others about Woodruff.

The remainder of the collection consists of financial records (Series 9), memorabilia (Series 10), Maps and blueprints (Series 11), and audio-visual materials (Series 12). The audio-visual materials consist of motion picture films, sound recordings and video recordings created by or collected for Robert W. Woodruff. The series includes motion pictures of Woodruff's houses and his vacations, audio recordings of events honoring Woodruff, and video recordings about Ichauway Plantation. There are also commercial films about Woodruff in this series.

Arrangement Note

Organized into twelve series: (1) Subject files, (2) Family papers, (3) Legal files, (4) Photographs and photograph albums, (5) Scrapbooks, (6) Personal papers, (7) Printed material, (8) Writings about Robert W. Woodruff, (9) Financial records, (10) Memorabilia, (11) Architectural drawings and maps, and (12) Audio-visual materials.

Subject files, 1819-1988
Boxes 1-364; BV 1-10

Scope and Content Note

The series consists of files that include correspondence, printed material, and unpublished documents about people, businesses, organizations, and subjects important to Robert W. Woodruff. Of particular interest in this series are the files relating to Coca-Cola and the Coca-Cola Company. These files document Woodruff's long involvement with the company. In addition to the files in the Coca-Cola section, there is more material about the Coca-Cola Company in the individual files of Coca-Cola employees and executives, including Arthur A. Acklin, J. Paul Austin, James Farley, Roberto Goizueta, Ralph Hayes, Max Keith, Benjamin H. Oehlert, John A. Sibley, Lee Talley, and others. This series also includes materials about other businesses that Woodruff had connections to, including American Express, General Electric Company, Southern Railway, and White Motor Company.

Also of interest are the files relating to Ichauway Plantation, Woodruff's South Georgia vacation home. Although Woodruff invited hunters there, Ichauway was also a working farm. The Ichauway files document many aspects of life at the plantation from the number of quail and turkey he and his guests killed to the types of crops the tenant farmers raised there.

The subject files also contain correspondence with Georgia and Atlanta politicians, including Walter F. George, Herman Talmadge, William B. Hartsfield, and Ivan Allen, Jr., Atlanta journalists Ralph McGill, and the golfer and attorney [Robert Tyre] Bobby Jones.

This series also details Woodruff's myriad philanthropic activities, including his involvement with Atlanta's Memorial Arts Center and his gifts to Atlanta-area educational institutions, including Agnes Scott College, the Atlanta University Center, Emory University, which includes information about the Emory Field Station at Ichauway, and the Georgia Institute of Technology.

Series 2
Family papers, 1857-1947
Boxes 365-370

Scope and Content Note

The series consists of personal papers relating to Robert W. Woodruff's family, including general family papers, the personal papers of Woodruff's parents, Ernest and Emily Winship Woodruff, and Woodruff's brother, Henry F. Woodruff.

Arrangement Note

Organized into three subseries: (2.1) General family papers, (2.2) Ernest and Emily Woodruff papers, and (2.3) Henry F. Woodruff papers.

Subseries 2.1General family papers, 1857-1912*Box 365*Scope and Content Note

The subseries consists of correspondence and other materials relating to Robert W. Woodruff and his family from 1857-1912. This subseries contains early correspondence to Robert W. Woodruff from his parents and grandparents, as well as school friends and cousins. It also includes several of Woodruff's school assignments from the Edgewood Avenue School and the Georgia Military Academy.

Other family correspondence consists of letters from Robert Winship to his wife Mary Frances Winship while serving in the Georgia State Guards near Guyton, Georgia during the Civil War in 1864. There is also three letters from Nicholas and Mary Overby of Anderson, South Carolina to their children in 1864.

Series 3
Legal files, 1919-1982
Boxes 371-378

Scope and Content Note

This series consists of legal files relating to Robert W. Woodruff's personal and professional life. The personal legal files cover topics such as Ichauway Plantation, Woodruff's personal holding and investment companies as well as files relating to his family. The professional legal files focus on Coca-Cola and its competition, including a 1940 legal battle with Lifesavers Corporation over their "Cola"-flavored candy. There are also files relating to the "Imitator," as Coca-Cola Company employees called Pepsi-Cola, including a biography of Walter S. Mack, Jr., the president of Pepsi-Cola.

Series 4

Photographs and photograph albums, circa 1890-1985

Boxes 379-425; OP 1-155 and 245; XOP 3; BV 11-134; OBV 51-59

Scope and Content Note

This series consists of amateur snapshots and professional photographs of Robert W. Woodruff, his family, his associates, his work, his philanthropy, his dogs and farm animals as well as a number of photograph albums. The photographs also document his involvement with The Coca-Cola Company and other businesses. While many of the photographs show Woodruff as a businessman or a philanthropist, the photographs taken at Ichauway capture Woodruff's personal life.

Additional photographs may be found in the scrapbooks located in Series 5.

Arrangement Note

Organized into twelve subseries: (4.1) Robert W. Woodruff, (4.2) Family photographs, (4.3) Events, (4.4) Associates, (4.5) Places, (4.6) Coca-Cola, (4.7) Philanthropy, (4.8) Animals, (4.9) Indexed photo albums, (4.10) Photo albums, (4.11) Slides, and (4.12) Negatives.

Subseries 4.1Robert W. Woodruff, circa 1890-1984*Boxes 379-381; OP 1-27 and 247*Scope and Content Note

The subseries contain portraits and snapshots of Robert W. Woodruff from his childhood in the 1890s through to 1984, the year before he died. A majority of the photographs in this subseries are photographs of Woodruff taken by professional photographers. There are also several photos of portraits of Woodruff painted by artists such as Elizabeth Shoumatoff and Thomas E. Stephens.

The "Places" section of this subseries features photographs of Woodruff at his two vacation homes, Ichauway and TE Ranch.

Arrangement Note

The first section, "Robert W. Woodruff" is arranged chronologically. The second section, "Places," is arranged alphabetically by the name of the place where the photograph was taken.

Subseries 4.5
Places, 1919 -1985
Boxes 394-403; OP 117-142; XOP3

Scope and Content Note

The subseries contains photographs of places, many of which are associated with Woodruff, from 1919 - 1985. The photographs include images of Atlanta, Georgia such as the Memorial Arts Center, Hurt Park, Emory University, and the Augusta National Golf Club in Augusta, Georgia. However, the bulk of the photographs in this subseries are images of Woodruff's vacation homes, Ichauway Plantation (Baker County, Georgia) and TE Ranch (near Cody, Wyoming). The "Trips" section contains photographs from Woodruff's other domestic and international travels.

Arrangement Note

The general section is arranged in alphabetical order; other sections are arranged in chronological order.

Subseries 4.9

Indexed photo albums, 1919-1948

BV 11-30

Scope and Content Note

This subseries consists of eighteen indexed photograph albums covering the years from 1919-1948. The albums contain photographs of visits to Ichauway Plantation and TE Ranch as well vacation trips in the United States, Europe, and South America.

The scrapbooks were put together by Woodruff's staff and each photograph was individually numbered and indexed. There are gaps in the volume numbers because several volumes were never transferred to the Rose Library.

Arrangement Note

Arranged roughly in chronological order.

Series 5

Scrapbooks, 1917-1986

OBV 1-50 and 60-61

Scope and Content Note

This series is divided into two sections: chronological scrapbooks and subject-oriented scrapbooks. The chronological scrapbooks were assembled, maintained, and indexed by Woodruff's office staff. These scrapbooks contain correspondence, photographs and printed material to chronicle Robert W. Woodruff's life year by year.

The subject-oriented scrapbooks (not indexed) detail events Woodruff was involved in as well as his generous gifts to Emory University and his gift that led to the state of Georgia's acquisition of Ossabaw Island.

Arrangement Note

Arranged by type of scrapbook, then in chronological order.

Subseries 6.2
Christmas cards, 1924-1984
Boxes 437-438

Scope and Content Note

This subseries contains the Christmas cards that Robert W. Woodruff and his wife, Nell Hodgson Woodruff, sent to friends and family each year. After a series of rather plain cards, Woodruff incorporated Ichauway Plantation into his holiday greeting after he purchased the property in 1929. In 1941, Woodruff, an avid outdoorsman, commissioned the artist Athos Menaboni to paint a picture of doves for his house at Ichauway Plantation. Woodruff liked the painting so much he had it printed as his Christmas card. The next year and each year after until Woodruff's death, Menaboni painted a portrait of a bird native to Ichauway or TE Ranch which was then printed as a card.

Subseries 6.3
Genealogy files, 1929-1986
Boxes 439-440; OP 156

Scope and Content Note

This subseries contains correspondence and research files relating to Woodruff's family history. The files document his connections to the Hodgson, Hurt, Lindsay, Thrasher, Winship and, of course, Woodruff families. The printed material folder contains a copy of Woodruff's genealogy that he had published sometime during the 1970s.

Arrangement Note

Arranged in alphabetical order.

Series 7
Printed material, 1906-1993
Boxes 486-496; OP 202-236

Scope and Content Note

This series consists of printed material about Robert W. Woodruff, Atlanta, Georgia, The Coca-Cola Company, Emory University, Ichauway Plantation, and the White Motor Company. These materials were either sent to or collected Woodruff.

The materials about Robert W. Woodruff are magazine and newspaper articles written about him. They chronicle his life, his career at Coca-Cola, and his philanthropy. The Atlanta printed material chart the growth and development of Atlanta. The Coca-Cola materials include company publications like The Refresher as well as newspaper articles that detail the fluctuations of the company's market share, bottom line and stock price. The printed material about Emory University features university publications -- both magazines and newspapers -- as well as a number of printed reports and studies published by Emory. Finally, the White Motor Company printed material documents the company and its line of products and the time when Woodruff took over as head of the company following Walter White's death in 1929.xt

Writings about Robert W. Woodruff, 1940-1979
Boxes 497-505; OP 237-242

Scope and Content Note

This series consists of notes, drafts, typescripts and proofs, and reviews of published works by others about Robert W. Woodruff. It includes materials relating to Charles Elliot's books Ichauway Plantation (1974), A Biography of the Boss (1979) and "Mr. Anonymous," Robert W. Woodruff of Coca-Cola (1982) (a second edition of A Biography of the Boss with additions), as well as Ely Jacques (E.J.) Kahn's Robert Winship Woodruff (1969). This series also contains drafts of articles about Robert W. Woodruff written by Ralph McGill.

Of special interest are the drafts prepared by various collaborators for the chapter "You in a Career of Selling," published under Woodruff's name in the book Listen to Leaders in Business (1963).

In addition, this series includes correspondence about the creation and production of these works; as well as original illustrations. The original illustrations include watercolor paintings by Keats Petree, which were used in Elliott's Ichauway Plantation, and charcoal drawings for Kahn's Robert Winship Woodruff.
