Collection Description

Biographical Note

Emily Barnelia Woodward (May 2, 1885- March 21, 1970) was born in Vienna, Georgia, the daughter of John Hartwell and Nancy Barnelia (McCormick) Woodward, the youngest of eight children, John M. (eldest, a Primitive Baptist minister), James, David, Charles, Lucius, Mary Jane, Carrie, and Emily. Miss Woodward attended Gordon Institute in Barnesville, Georgia but dropped out after one year because of her vision. She was editor and publisher of the Vienna News from 1918-1930, and during these years and thereafter was also a contributor of editorials and feature articles to the Atlanta Journal and other newspapers and magazines. She served two terms as President of the Georgia Press Association, 1926-1928, the first woman to be elected to that office. While holding this post she founded the Georgia Press Institute which held its first meeting at Mercer University in 1928. In that year Miss Woodward, always actively interested in politics, served as an assistant secretary of the Democratic National Convention.

In 1930 she visited Europe, making an intensive study of economic conditions in France, Germany, Italy, Denmark, and Great Britain. Miss Woodward was forum leader of the Atlanta City Forum, 1937; Director of Georgia State-wide Public Forums, 1938-1944; director of the Division of Forums, Georgia University System, 1943-1950; the founder and director of the first Leadership Institute held at the University of Georgia, July, 17-19, 1947; organizer and director of Town Hall, Atlanta Federal Penitentiary, 1940-1950; director of a series of Radio Forums over WSB, Atlanta, 1939-1944; consultant and lecturer in England and Scotland under the auspices of the United States Office of War Information and the British Ministry of Information, March 29-August. 12, 1944; member of an advisory group on education to Japan through the U. S. State Department and War Department, February 2-April 8, 1946.

Miss Woodward was a Trustee of the Georgia Training School for Boys, 1928-1932; member of the executive council of a statewide organization for safety on the highways, member of the board of the state Forestry Association, member of the Executive Committee of the Georgia Conference on Social Work; member of the Georgia Executive Board of the Farmers Home Administration. She was also a member of the League of Women Voters and of other civic, cultural, and women's groups. She was a signer of the Statement of the Atlanta Conference, 1943, an important document in race relations. Governor E. D. Rivers asked Miss Woodward to assist in formulating a plan for the "Ten Year Program for Balanced Prosperity in Dixie;" and Governor Ellis Arnall appointed her Chairman of the Herty Memorial Commission to honor the work of Dr. Charles Herty in developing the pine pulp industry in Georgia.

Miss Woodward has received three honorary degrees: Doctor of Letters, University of Georgia, 1929; Doctor of Humanities, La Grange College, 1946; Doctor of Laws, Atlanta Law School, 1948. She is the author of Empire: Georgia Today in Photographs and Paragraphs, 1936, and Forums: Why and How.

Scope and Content Note

The collection consists of the papers of Emily Woodward from 1918-1968. The papers include biographical materials, correspondence, writings, printed material, photographs, and materials concerned with public and private forums and radio forums, and memorabilia.

Letters (1918-1966) are to and from Woodward and document her entire career. Correspondents include Georgia and national political and official figures, military, church, and civic leaders; manuscripts are of Woodward's articles and addresses; files contain material on Forums (which includes reports, transcripts of radio broadcasts, and miscellaneous material), the Georgia Press Institute, the Georgia Forestry Association, the Leadership Training Institute, Woodward's 1944 broadcasts from Britain, and biographical/genealogical information (on herself, her father John H. Woodward, and other family); printed material consists of Woodward's articles, programs, and invitations; scrapbooks contain clippings and photographs and cover the Georgia Press Association tour of Cuba (1926), Woodward's trip to Japan (1946), and the Vienna Business Woman's League (1959).
